California's Statewide Historic Preservation Plan Needs Your Input!

The Office of Historic Preservation wants you! We're gathering input for our next Statewide Historic Preservation Plan for California (State Plan, for short). The last State Plan came out in 2006 and our goal is to have a new one in place by late 2011 or early 2012.

But first we need to reach out to our stakeholders, customers and partners to hear your ideas as to what issues and goals should be part of that State Plan. To give you an opportunity to voice your opinions, we'll be holding a series of listening sessions in various parts of the state. We hope to see you at one!

For questions and/or to RSVP, call (916) 445-7000 or email calshpo@parks.ca.gov

Issues Addressed in the 2006 State Plan:

- Archaeology
- California Main Street
- Cultural Diversity
- Cultural Landscapes
- Heritage Tourism
- Incentives for Preservation
- Information Management
- Land Use Planning
- Outreach & Public Education
- Preserving the Recent Past

In addition to the listening sessions, there will be other forms of public outreach for the plan. To make sure you're informed about them, sign up for the State Plan email list by sending a message asking to be included on the list to calshpo@parks.ca.gov. You can also follow us on Facebook and Twitter, which can be accessed through our website.

Southern California Listening Session:

- Los Angeles, March 29, 2011
