Application Overview

State Projects

Projects applying only for state tax credit use all application forms and templates provided on the OHP State tax credit web page:

- The Initial Project Application.
- The Rehabilitation Application Narrative template.
- The Amendment Form.
- The Completed Project Application.
- Fees.

Dual Projects

Projects applying for both the state and federal tax credits use only:

- The Initial Project Application.
- The Completed Project Application.
- fees.

The state review uses the same supplemental documentation and formats required by the federal tax credit program.

Amendments are reviewed using the federal amendment form 10-168b pursuant to 36 CFR 67.6. Dual projects do not submit state amendment forms.

Dual projects not currently listed in the California Register are listed in the California Register upon approval of the signed federal Part 1 "Evaluation of Significance" Form 10-168 pursuant to 36 CFR 67.4.

Application Format

The Initial Project Application has three sections:

- Section 1: Confirmation of California Register Listing
- Section 2: Application Narrative Template and Impact of project on character-defining features.
- Section 2 Amendment: Use the Amendment form for changes during construction.
- Section 3: Project data, tax identification information, estimated project total and Qualified Rehabilitation Expenditure (QRE) costs and the allocation request. This section contains financial information for the CTCAC.

The Completed Project Application has two sections:

- Section 4: Request for Certification of Completed Work
- Section 5: Completed project data and final total costs. This section contains financial information and cost certification for the CTCAC.

The current version of the forms is at the top left of the Application page. Current form versions are available on the State Historic Rehabilitation Tax Credit web page.

Tax Credit Categories

Applicants apply for one of three tax credit allocation categories:

- Qualified Residences
- Projects with QRE costs less than $1,000,000
- Projects with QRE costs $1,000,000 or more

Each category is allocated specific budget amounts by the legislature every fiscal year. When the anticipated cost totals of every project in that category approach the total budgeted allocation amounts, OHP will announce that applications for that category are no longer accepted until the next fiscal year when allocations are budgeted again by email and OHP social media.

When new funding is allocated, OHP will announce that applications are being accepted.

Application Fees and Calculation

OHP Fees:

Qualified Residence fees are set at a flat rate of $900. $450 is paid with the Initial Project Application and $450 is paid with the Completed Project Application.

All income-producing properties incur a fee of 1% of the Completed Qualified Rehabilitation Expense (QRE) up to the first $125,000. An additional 0.15% for the QRE expenses above $125,000 is added to the 1% base fee. Fees are capped at $6000.

The Initial Project Application fee is one half of the estimated QRE cost declared on the Initial Project Application.

The Completed Project Application fee is the balance of the final fee calculated from the final total QRE cost declared on the form minus the Initial Application fee.

CTCAC Fees:

Processing Fee: A fee in the amount of $500 for Qualified Residence projects and $1,000 for all other projects shall be submitted to the CTCAC at the time the applicant is notified by the OHP that the Initial Project Application is forwarded to the CTCAC.

Administrative Fee: A fee in the amount of 2% of the tax allocation credit shall be submitted to the CTCAC within 10 calendar days of the allocation award at project completion.

Refer to the CTCAC for fee remittance instructions.

Qualified Residence QRE costs DO NOT INCLUDE new construction or additions, furniture, landscaping, and small appliances.

All Projects with QRE costs below $25,000 do not qualify for a tax credit.

Application Fee remittance

OHP can only receive fee payments as a personal, corporate or cashier's check. Payments must be submitted at the time of application and can be mailed or delivered to the OHP office. The mailing address is:

OHP Tax Credit Program
P.O. Box 942896
Sacramento CA 94296

Make checks payable to "Office of Historic Preservation".

Application Signature

Signatures can be either:

- A .jpg or transparent .png signature added onto the signature field.
- A hand-signed hard copy of the application front page and scanned as a PDF file. Include the PDF signed copy with the Initial submittal PDF. Note in the signature field that 'PDF of signed form is included'.

Upload Instructions to the secure OHP Portal

All file formats must be PDFs unless photos are submitted as jpegs.

When all Application and submission files are complete:

Request a link to the OHP secure SharePoint Portal.

- Email the request for a portal link to calshpo.tax@parks.ca.gov.

 - The requestors name and company or affiliation.
 - The project name, city, and county where the project is located.
 - The email addresses of others permitted to access the portal.

The shared portal link is sent to applicant’s and other’s emails as provided. First time SharePoint users are prompted to verify their email with a verification code sent to the email address provided in the request.

The OHP portal opens in a browser.

- Select ‘upload’ from the banner menu.
- Select ‘files’, or ‘folder’ if the files are collected in a folder, from the pulldown menu.
- Many files can be selected for upload at once, but only one folder is uploaded at a time.

Although OHP is notified when documents are uploaded to a SharePoint folder, a follow-up email to the project reviewer is recommended.

Qualified residence project applicants have the option to deliver one hard copy Application submission to the OHP office for review instead of electronic submittal through the Portal. Documentation formats still apply.

Appendix C

Documentation Format Standards for Qualified Residence submittals

All applicants are encouraged to follow the submittal format examples as described on the National Park Service (NPS) Documentation Requirements for Certification Applications web page.

Photos may be submitted as jpegs in a folder. Each folder cannot exceed 50 photos, and photo files cannot be larger than 500 kilobytes. Photos must be numbered sequentially and submitted with a document which describes each photo in numerical order.

Photos may be submitted as PDFs. Each page must have no more than two photos. Photos and pages must be sequentially numbered. Descriptions can be below each photo or described in a separate document.

All photo submissions must include a photo key, which is a plan of each floor of the building with arrows numbered to match the photos in the direction and location from which they were taken.

Exterior photos can be keyed using the first floor plan in the context of a property map. Photos of other structures on the property can be noted there. Include photos up and down the street to provide a neighborhood context.

Interior photos should include views of the floor, ceiling, and all four walls. Include features like light fixtures, trim and baseboard details.

If any critical photos are illegible, review will be placed on hold until legible photos are provided.

Drawing format:

Architectural drawings and legible sketches by others must be submitted in PDF format. All drawings must be numbered and referenced in the Rehabilitation Application Narrative Template.

Legible photos of no more than six drawings are permitted if PDFs are unavailable.

Product literature:

Product literature descriptive of products used in the project can be submitted as PDFs. Do not provide any pages of products that are not used in the project. If the product used is one of several listed, use the drawing tool to indicate which product is specifically used or provide the product ID in the descriptive narrative.

What is a feature?

Qualified residences and historic buildings have features characteristic of the style and period in which they were built. Features are found on the exterior and interior of historic buildings. These are the features that this program encourages to remain and repair, or replace in kind, during projects that upgrade or repurpose historic buildings.

The review criteria for the compatible treatment of the historic building and its features are the ten Secretary of the Interiors Standards for Rehabilitation. The standards are provided in Appendix D of the Instructions, and links for compatible treatments are on the OHP Architectural Review webpage.

A project Application Narrative Template fillable PDF is provided in the Application. Each page has numbered blocks where each feature is described and located on or in the building, and a space to describe if or how the project impacts each feature, whether it is left as-is, or cleaned, repaired, or replaced in kind.

Features or elements proposed for in-kind replacement must justify the replacement by documenting that the majority of existing features are too damaged to economically repair.

Examples of exterior features would be landscape objects such as a fountain or well, brackets at roof eaves, gable pediments, decorative window head trim called hoods, siding that is clapboard, shiplap or shingle, windows that are fixed or double hung, sash that has many panes or no panes, and so on.

Materials can be a feature of a building's style and period built. Examples of materials typical of a mid-century modern residence could be vertical wood battens, brick, stone or other masonry, and stucco.

Spaces can be a character-defining feature, such as an open courtyard in an Eichler residence, or the volume of a theater house.

Links for further discussion and examples of period styles and features, and sample narratives, are available in guidelines for the SHRTC on the OHP State Tax Credit web page.

Begin the description of project features from the large scale to the small scale, and from exterior to interior. Block 1 should describe the property and prominent landscaping, foundation landscaping, sidewalks, stairs or retaining walls, elements like porches, chimneys turrets, etc.

Continue with a description of one feature per block found on the exterior of the building.

Windows are described in their own block.

Continue to the inside of the qualified residence or historic building. Describe any features typical of the building, such as trim or detailed carpentry, use of several materials, ceiling heights or formal spaces.

Describe each room per block. Note ceiling, wall and floor material, ornamental plaster or wood trim, window casings, heating elements like radiators, pocket doors, etc.

Note the condition of the existing mechanical, electrical and plumbing systems using as many blocks as needed. In the project impact space, note if the system or its elements remain in place, are repaired or replaced in part or in whole.

In each block, use the project impact space to describe how the proposed project affects the features, whether they remain in place, cleaned or maintained, repaired or replaced in kind. Replacement in kind must be justified.

If the guidelines referenced in the OHP state tax credit website do not resolve questions, email the OHP staff at calshpo.tax@parks.ca.gov using the subject line "<OHP project number> Request for technical assistance". Describe the question or issue in the body of the email and preferred contact method using email or a phone call. Provide a phone number and a staff member will return a call shortly to resolve the issue.

Appendix E

Secretary of the Interior's Standards for Rehabilitation

1. A property shall be used for its historic purpose or be placed in a new use that requires minimal change to the defining characteristics of the building and its site and environment.
2. The historic character of a property shall be retained and preserved. The removal of historic materials or alteration of features and spaces that characterize a property shall be avoided.
3. Each property shall be recognized as a physical record of its time, place, and use. Changes that create a false sense of historical development, such as adding conjectural features or architectural elements from other buildings, shall not be undertaken.
4. Most properties change over time; those changes that have acquired historic significance in their own right shall be retained and preserved.
5. Distinctive features, finishes, and construction techniques or examples of craftsmanship that characterize a historic property shall be preserved.
6. Deteriorated historic features shall be repaired rather than replaced. Where the severity of deterioration requires replacement of a distinctive feature, the new feature shall match the old in design, color, texture, and other visual qualities and, where possible, materials. Replacement of missing features shall be substantiated by documentary, physical, or pictorial evidence.
7. Chemical or physical treatments, such as sandblasting, that cause damage to historic materials shall not be used. The surface cleaning of structures, if appropriate, shall be undertaken using the gentlest means possible.
8. Significant archeological resources affected by a project shall be protected and preserved. If such resources must be disturbed, mitigation measures shall be undertaken.
9. New additions, exterior alterations, or related new construction shall not destroy historic materials that characterize the property. The new work shall be differentiated from the old and shall be compatible with the massing, size, scale, and architectural features to protect the historic integrity of the property and its environment.
10. New additions and adjacent or related new construction shall be undertaken in such a manner that if removed in the future, the essential form and integrity of the historic property and its environment would be unimpaired.
